About the organization

Einstein Healthcare Network is a private, not-for-profit organization with a mix of acute care facilities and outpatient centers. Their primary mission is to provide compassionate, high-quality healthcare to the greater Philadelphia region. To learn more, visit www.einstein.edu.

Challenges

- Move away from disparate systems to a single enterprise solution.
- Avoid planned obsolescence of outdated technology systems.
- · Position the organization for growth.
- Free up HR staff for strategic initiatives.

Benefits

- IT, Payroll, and HR staff partnered to drive efficiencies throughout the organization
- Eliminated 8,000 paper transactions per year—just in HR-related personnel tasks.
- Provided easy access to employee and manager HR information.
- Improved compliance, with an automated system for tracking expiring certifications and licenses, testing and training dates, and required vaccinations.
- Enabled prehire of residents, so they can complete training requirements prior to employment and begin work immediately.

"Infor has enabled us to streamline administrative processes, improve compliance and communication, and empower employees with the information they need to succeed at Einstein."
